

The Parts of a Tree

The BRANCHES hold leaves, flowers, fruit and nuts.

The LEAVES turn sunlight into food for the tree.

The TRUNK holds up the tree, and it brings food up from the roots out to the branches.

The ROOT FLARE is where the trunk and the roots meet.

The ROOTS absorb food and water from under the ground.

